

PrEP: ARE YOU PrEPped?

- HIV may be prevented by taking Pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP)
- PrEP involves taking one pill once a day to prevent HIV
- Studies have shown PrEP to be highly effective at preventing HIV (92-99%)
- Although PrEP is very effective at preventing HIV, it does not prevent other STDs such as gonorrhea, chlamydia, syphilis, herpes, or trichomoniasis.
- Consistent condom use will decrease your risk of STDs and HIV
- PrEP may be used by any HIV negative person who is at risk for HIV including heterosexual individuals (especially those who have an HIV positive partner), men who have sex with men, individuals who use injection drugs
- PrEP is available at the Jefferson County Department of Health for insured and uninsured individuals
